

Baltimore Woods
Nature Center
Nature in your hands

Nature Photography

November is a wonderful time to get outside! Let's connect with nature this week through art. Take time to tap into your inner artist for this activity and let your creativity run free!

Let's take some nature photos! Beauty truly does lie in the eye of the beholder and this week we challenge you to get outside and take some photos of things you find in nature. Use any camera you have to experiment and snap pictures of things that speak to you! Need some inspiration? Take a look below at some of the photos our staff have captured outside. Got a photo you really like? Share some of your nature photos with us by tagging @Baltimore Woods Nature Center on Facebook or @baltimorewoods on Instagram!

