Nature in your hands

New Year, New Sights

Is there fresh snow on the ground? Snow is kind of like a refresher for our imaginations and perspectives. So, as we start the New Year, let's allow the snow, and the nature around us, to inspire us all over again.

Head outside with your family or friends for a walk around your neighborhood, a local park, or here at Baltimore Woods and see if you can find 10 things you never noticed before. Can you also find 10 things that look new in 2021? Maybe a fresh coating of snow has given them a new look.
