

Baltimore Woods Nature Center Native Plant Sale 2020

Handmade Birdhouses from Reclaimed Lumber

Native plants provide food and habitat for many species, including birds! Consider adding a birdhouse to your backyard landscape – not only will they enjoy the fruit, seeds, nectar, and other food sources such as insects – but these are handmade from reclaimed lumber by talented Baltimore Woods volunteers. The Onondaga Audubon Society reports that including native plants in your landscape can help increase bird diversity and abundance!
