Nature in your hands

Backyard BioBlitz!

Get your family together and list as many species of plants and animals that you can find around your own backyard or neighborhood in one day!

Directions:

1. Draw out a map of the area where you'll be investigating.
2. Gather field guides and books to help you with your identification.
3. Write out a chart like the one shown to keep track of everything you find.
4. Use fun apps like iNaturalist to document your findings and make sure to share your results with us the email below!
5. Have fun!
